CDPH Updates

HAI Update: Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

Q: How often do we need to monitor vital signs for our residents if we have no COVID-19 cases?

- In facilities that don't have suspected or confirmed COVID-19, the recommendation is to monitor residents at least daily.
- For facilities with suspected or confirmed COVID-19 cases, facilities need to monitor vital signs (including pulse oximetry) every shift for all residents and every 4 hours for residents with COVID-19 infection in the red zone.
- Keep in mind that frequent monitoring is necessary due to the rapidity with which people with COVID-19 can deteriorate, especially for residents unable to appreciate changes and unable to self-report changes in clinical status.
- This CDPH guidance aligns with the CDC's current guidance <https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/hcp/long-term-care.html#evaluating-managing>

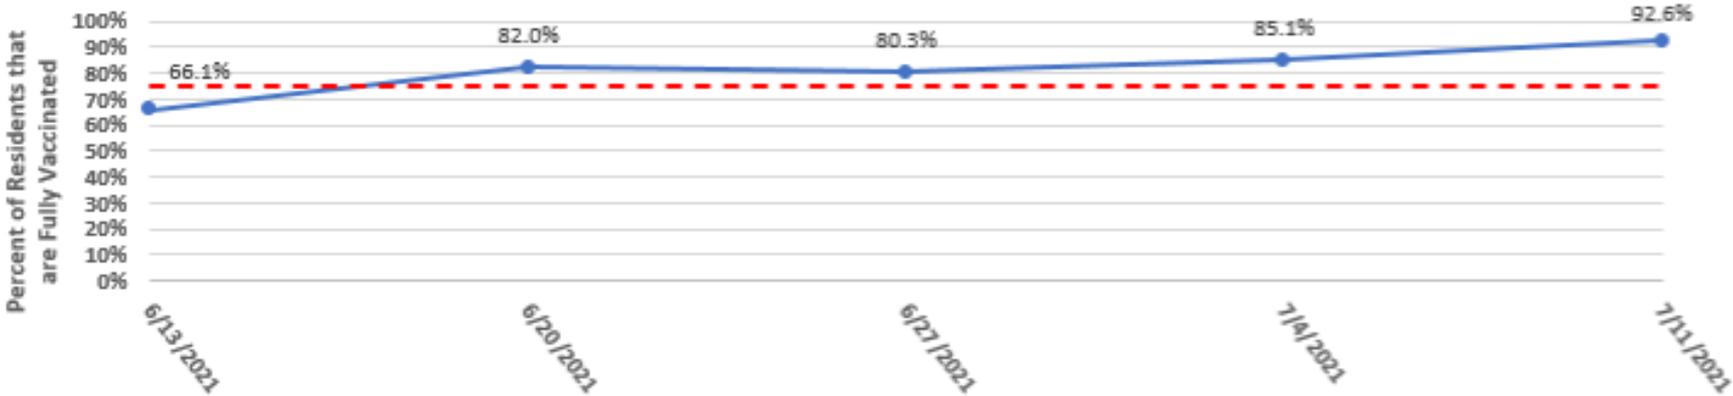

Q: Do we still need a separate break room, bathroom, and dedicated staff if our SNF has only one COVID-19 positive resident?

- CDPH AFL 20-74 states “The COVID-19 positive cohort should be housed in a separate "red area" (building, unit or wing) of the facility and have dedicated HCP who do not provide care for residents in other cohorts and should have separate break rooms and restrooms if possible.
- We recognize there are situations now where there may be only one or two COVID-19 positive residents in the “red zone.”
- If possible, it would be optimal to maintain a separate breakroom and restroom for the assigned HCP.
- The “red zone” should be located in a less-busy area (e.g., end of hallway) with clear signage indicating the PPE required when entering the room.
- A separate dedicated staff member may not be feasible due to staffing considerations. In that case, the designated HCP should perform routine care of the resident in the “red zone” after care of other residents. Optimally, another HCP could be assigned as a “buddy” to monitor and ensure appropriate donning and doffing and hand hygiene.

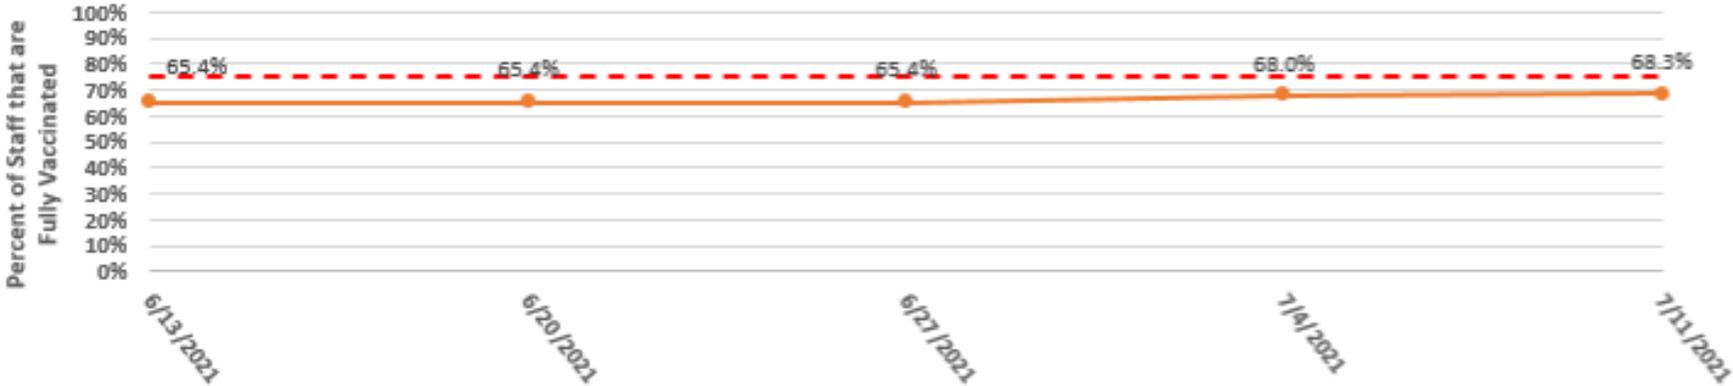

Facility-Specific COVID-19 Vaccine Data Report
